Base Ball News

Hartford took another game Saturday afternoon, when Taylor Mines was defeated to a score of 13 to 7. Those who saw the scrap say that Taylor Mines was not entitled to a single score, and they made their scores in the ninth inning, when the game gave some bad decisions, so the locals thought, and then Hartford did not try to play ball. The score:

Hartford	1	2	4	5	6	7	8	9	T
Taylor Mines	4	4	5	0	0	4	0	0	18

Umpire: J. A. Leach, of Beaver Dam.

Boys had on her playing clothes Saturday afternoon and moped up on the creek with a score of 15 to 5. Game played at Hartford before the Hartford-Taylor Mines game.

Harold struck out 11 men and Williams and Durham together struck out 2 of the locals.

HUNTER GETTING UP STEAM.

Shaner and Barnett were star bats Saturday afternoon, and all the fans were proud of them.

Wing High is a new addition to the Hartford aggregation, and plays good ball for a fellow who has not played for years.

In the game at Central City Sunday afternoon the Henderson team defeated Clarksville, Tenn., 6 to 5.

The locals have lost only 3 games this season and have won 8. They have not lost a single game when played on home grounds.

Harry Dudley Walker is another young fan who likes our "dope" and makes us he reads it every week.

It appears that Louisville, in the American Association, has taken on a little life here of late, for she is playing better in the last few games.

Shaner Sandorfer, of near Beaver Dam called to see us Saturday, and he told us that our baseball game was read by everyone in his neighborhood. Story thanks.

Chas. Chandler says he is feeling mean and has blood in his eyes and wants to get a real good game for this team for Saturday afternoon. He is making an effort to secure a game with Beaver Dam or Mohonry. We hope the locals will get to play both out the visitors at an early date for we do not believe they can beat the locals any more.

MANDA.

July 5.—Health in this community is not very good at this writing. We are needing rain very bad. A large per cent of the corn crop is already badly damaged on account of the drought.

Miss Nina Stevens, Cronwell, Ky., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Nannie Rafferty, this week.

Little Wanda Rafferty has been very bad with the flu but is slowly improving.

Mr. O. E. McSherry and wife, of Central City, are the guests of friends and relatives here this week.

Mr. Bill Rafferty, Pete Norman and George Crain, attended the picnic at Horton Saturday. All report a nice time.

Miss Duma Parks was the proud guest of her parents, Mr. F. T. Parks, of Beaver Dam route 3, last week.

Miss Golda and Orela Davis are on the sick list this week.

Mr. Joe Stewart, Miss Dinah Parks, and Miss Chloe Rafferty, attended Sunday school at Haynes Grove last Sunday.

Most Maddening is the Borrowers

Of all the maddening people in the world women who borrow things are the worst. They are the shiftheads on the earth, those who live of others, and as long as they can borrow from others they will never take the trouble to acquire anything for themselves or to take care of or keep in order anything.

Sometimes it will be found that women borrow because they have not the means to buy. As a rule, they are poor because they are wasteful, and they will rush as readily the things they borrow as they have already destroyed their own things.

People with "hard hands" rarely amount to anything. Beware of trusting in important matters the woman who is forever smashing things, taking the handles off baskets, the heads off pins, scratching and cutting furniture, blunting scissors, etc. She has not the saving, preserving instinct and will not know how to look after your interests any more than she has the instinctive things in her charge.

There are some that build and some that tear down in this world, and those who can take something bad and make it into something good are the ones to cling to, not vice versa.

Borrowers, as a rule, belong to the destroying class. They are shiftless and mentally lazy, so they do not like to go to the trouble of thinking beforehand as to whether they have the necessary things.

They prefer to depend on some neighbor, whose brain consequently has to work for both.

Nothing is more discouraging, indeed, than to be a good provider, an orderly person, and go to your desk or shelf or closet at a certain time, expecting to find a certain article, only to find it missing because it has been borrowed, or, worse still, out of working order or broken.

Borrowers should be worse than discouraged; they should be "cut out" entirely from one's acquaintance. —Louisville Herald.

TREASURE CHEST IS UNCOVERED BY BOYS

Search for Other Possessions of Wilderness Recluse is Begun.

Carey, Mich., July 10.—A romance of the days when much of the state of Michigan was a wilderness was brought to light today when boys of the South Bend, (Ind.) Y. M. C. A. summer camp, while digging a hole for a flagpole, brought up a rusty iron box, containing pistols, books and several documents.

The lock could not be opened, so the bottom of the chest was broken. First the discoverers found two rusty pistols of an ancient pattern, resting in a bed of flax. Then followed a motley collection, including a plain gold ring, apparently the wedding pledge of some pioneer bride; a silver-cased watch of Swiss manufacture; a small dagger and a rust stained hunting knife; leather-bound books dating from 1767 to 1819, among them a Bible, "Children of the Abbey," and "Book of Passion." There were several school books and a number of pennies bearing dates from 1781 to 1854; samples of silver, lead and copper ores, arrow heads, and a collection of pebbles. Deeds dating back as far as 1739 related to property at Plymouth, Conn.

An explanation of the mystery was found in a letter left by the owner of the chest, in part as follows:

"This chest is the property of Hesilda Thomas formerly of New England, later of the Michigan wilderness. A spiritualist of God, believing, and my spirit still roams over these lakes in the full moon seasons, guarding all my valuable deposited possessions, for they are many and varied. God gave many wonderful secrets but because of the great sin, He took them all away but one—the least of them—the turning of sable stones into gold. I have buried this secret by the body of old Duckwing in the big swamp. God rest my soul. God has filled the earth with gold. Devils do not believe it, but has He not promised, 'Seek and find?' The blue heron is wise, and the night owl, but man is an ass, for he walketh not in the ways of the most high."

A little of the story of the peculiar old hermit is known here. George Knevels, who lives in a portion of a house built by Thomas, says that as a boy he recollects finding carefully secreted collections of pebbles in the house. It is said that Thomas' wife deserted him, and that his queerness became noticeable about the same time. He roamed the woods, talking to the trees and animals, and believed that he could transmute certain stones into gold.

According to another letter found in the box, there is another chest buried on the island. A map, which was among the contents, gave directions for finding this chest. The whole neighborhood is excited over a search, immediately begun, for the remaining chests.

Desert Farm for City.

Washington, D. C., July 7.—The people of the United States are steadily deserting the country and the farm for the turmoil and delights of the city and town, according to statistics made public today by the census bureau. During the past ten years the percentage of people living in cities or other incorporated places of more than 2,500 inhabitants increased from 40.5 to 46.3 of the total. Twenty years ago only 36.1 per cent of the total population lived in such incorporated places. In classifying the 1910 census returns the bureau calls that portion of the population in incorporated cities or towns of 2,500 or more inhabitants urban and the remainder rural. On this basis, in 1910, 42,623,383 or 46.3 per cent of the total, lived in urban territory and 49,348,883, or 53.7 per cent, in rural territory.

Right in your busiest season when you have the least time to spare you are most likely to take diarrhoea and lose several days' time, unless you have Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand and take a dose on the first appearance of the disease. For sale by all druggists.

The Injured Finger.

Every one knows that disfigurement and sometimes suppression of the fingers follow the bruising of the fingers. Worn still, at times the injury results in an unsightly finger nail, until the blackening disappears. Now, the next time you squeeze your fingers in the door or hit them when you strain for the head of a tack sent yourself on a chair in front of a stationary wash stand and hold your hand under the cold water faucet, in as nearly an upright position as is possible, and let the cold water run on the injured member for nearly an hour. If the water gets too cold turn it off for a few minutes, but be sure and keep the hand in the upright position, so that the blood will not run too freely into the bruised portions of the finger and discolor it.

Cold water is nature's own antiseptic. While away camping with a physician and his family, where there often camped in a lovely spot miles away from a drug store, the doctor demonstrated the healing virtues of water in many ways. One day a member of the camp had the misfortune to get his hand poisoned by having it cut with the flint of a certain flint. When he came to the doctor for aid his arm was greatly swollen and darkly purple, even above the elbow. The physician washed the wound with small sponges of absorbent cotton saturated with cold spring water, and he also made him keep compresses made of absorbent cotton and cold water over the wound, changing them as soon as they became warm for fresh ones. It was one of the quickest and most satisfactory cures I ever witnessed.

Paint Lick Sick Lady.

Paint Lick, Ky.—Mrs. Mary Freeman, of this place, says: "Before I commenced to take Cardui, I suffered so much from womanly trouble, I was so weak that I was down on my back nearly all the time. Cardui has done me more good than any medicine I ever took in my life." You need not be afraid to take Cardui. It is no new experiment. Composed of gentle-acting, herb ingredients, it has been found to safely relieve headache, backache, and similar female troubles. Try it for your troubles.
